

Post 58 October Newsletter

NEXT MEETING: MONDAY OCTOBER 21 AT LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL (ROOM 169)

R.I.P. "Marty Mobile."

This month we say goodbye to our long time friend, the "Marty Mobile". Over the past few years, this profound vehicle has not only carried Post members and gear, but the memories that go along with the amazing experiences we have with this organization. The "Marty Mobile" will be greatly missed and will forever stay dear in our hearts. Below are some pictures of the irreplaceable moments that Post 58 members have shared with Marty. The good news is that the Marty Mobile is in great shape, and will be sold on the open market - because the Post has been donated a newer van! If your parents want you to have a BIG and safe car to drive around in, with good tires, a new radiator and lots of room, than tell them about the availability of this workhorse.

SURPRISE PHOTOS REVEAL THE TRUTH ABOUT GIULIANI'S TRIP TO UKRAINE

Surprise photos reveal the truth about Giuliani's trip to Ukraine. Although newspaper headlines and shrill pleadings from Democratic leaders and other pro-

Constitution groups have tried to show that President Trump's personal lawyer Rudy Giuliani was in Ukraine in an attempt to sabotage Joe Biden's presidential bid, it turns out the reality was far different. "I'm not sure what the American press is saying, we no longer get the papers here," said

Viktor Oleksiy in broken English through an interpreter, "but Senator Giuliani was with me most of August up on that peak right there." Oleksiy, a native Ukrainian mountain guide, pointed to an intimidating glacier clad spire on the horizon, as Russian tanks herded women and children across fields in the middle distance. "He is a good climber.

He does have a little trouble—how do you say?—staying tied into the rope, though, "We boarded a dated Oldsmobile at this point and drove a few miles west. I had assumed this was to allow us to get a better view of the peak, but my host told me that the border had moved during the night as the Russians pushed further into the country without opposition. Oleksiy continued: "Sometimes I would be building an anchor and when I was finished I would look up and see Senator Giuliani far out ahead of me. I would yell 'Rudy, Rudy,' I would say, and he would give me that big toothy grin and tell me he wasn't really ahead of me. It was confusing for me, but maybe it is my understanding of English. Here I have some photos I can show you," he said to me because the translator had fled the scene a few moments earlier. "He came to Ukraine to climb, that is all there is to it."

What Happened...

- Climb Night! September 26
- Bakesale at Prana on September 28
- Portland Marathon October 6
- Leading on Rock October 19-20

At the Portland Marathon on October 6th, some other Postees and I acted as course marshalls. We met at 6:30 a.m. in the morning and got to see a beautiful sunrise as we set up our portion of the course. After putting up the "Road Closed" signs, we helped local drivers navigate their way out of the neighborhood before the race started. Once the race began, we got to cheer on and support the runners as they passed us. I got the chance to chat with an elderly man whose son is running in the race. When his son passed by, my friend, the old man, and I cheered him along. Overall, volunteering at the marathon was a lot of fun and the people supporting the runners made the whole thing an exciting experience.

Get to Know an Advisor: Kellie Beck!

I was born in Corvallis and raised on a Ranch in the foothills of the Oregon Coast. My parents tell me I was born with an itch to explore! I remember my first solo outdoor adventure at six when I pushed my Schwinn Lil' Chick bike to the top of an 1100 foot hill to see how fast I could go down. I was over the handle bars within thirty seconds, but the adrenaline rush far made up for the long walk home with a flat tire and broken chain. My thirst to try new things had only begun! Biking was eventually put on the back burner by mountaineering. My stepdad took me on my first backpacking trip, and even though I didn't get all the way to the summit of Mt Jefferson, the thrill and freedom of glacier travel hooked me! Consequently, I spent my teens and 20s mountaineering, backpacking, bouldering, hiking, biking, and kayaking my way around the West. At 25 I realized that I did want to retire at some point and left my full-time adventuring ways to settle down in Portland. While I detest big city living, it is where I met and fell in love with my amazing wife Laurie! Over the course of the past 15 years we have pursued our common passion of scuba diving. Some of my favorite spots are Honduras, Venezuela, Australia and any cenote in Mexico! When I wasn't underwater in my 30s and 40s, my work life took me from heavy construction and mining, to applying to work for Apple on a whim. At Apple, I started in Operations and New Store Openings and ended up managing Inventory and then Scheduling. I retired from Apple in 2016, but boredom led to 2 years of grant work on copper cellular mitosis at OHSU for the Medical and Molecular Genetics department. I am really retired now (promise!) as of June of 2019, and truly look forward to spending more time with the Post!

Upcoming Events

Get Hyped!

- Climb Night! October 25th
- Fundraiser on October 26th
- Smith Rock on October 26th-27th
- Service November 3rd
- Caving Trip! November 9-10th

The biannual trips to Smith Rock have both been some of my favorite experiences with the Post. Last year, I went to the fall Smith trip and had a great time. I learned how to climb outdoors, met lots of great people, and discovered that the Chinese restaurant is WAY better than the Mexican restaurant.
